Help build Hope

The Saint Thomas Habitat Ministry has joined with the Smyrna-Cobb Habitat Coalition, an ecumenical effort, to build our eighteenth home in West Cobb County. Construction is well underway on the home for the Nyoka family; with just landscaping yet to be done. Watch the bulletin for the time and location of the home dedication scheduled for October 16th.

Help is still needed with our fundraising effort, as we are falling far short of our goal of $10,000.

Please consider a $30 donation. You will find donation envelopes on the Habitat lattice board in Commons. Just place one with your donation in the weekly offertory. Please give what you can; all help is greatly appreciated.

Check out the Habitat lattice board in Commons to see pictures of this year's build.

God Bless you for your generosity and your prayers.

We are looking for a person interested in leading the ministry to welcome new parishioners, to invite new members and to help support the ministry's ongoing efforts! For more information, please email yeymereyes@yahoo.com or call 678-925-6786.

Do You know the Mass? Prayers at the preparation of the gifts

At every Mass, the Priest repeats the words by which Christ instituted the Holy Eucharist at the Last Supper, and by which the bread and wine become the true Body and Blood of Christ for us today.

The changes at the consecration of the bread are minor, but there are a few changes in the text for the consecration of the wine that are worth explaining. First is the replacement of "cup" with "chalice." Both refer to vessels from which we drink, and both terms appear in the Bible. However, "chalice" implies a special kind of cup – one that is precious and set aside for a noble purpose (in this case, for the "new and eternal covenant"). This is part of the dignified language brought out by the new translation: just as we do not refer to the altar of sacrifice as merely a "table," so saying "chalice" at this moment emphasizes that the Blood of Christ is no ordinary drink. Such language can help foster greater reverence at the Holy Mass.

A significant change is the revision of the current phrase, "shed for you and for all so that sins may be forgiven," to "poured out for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins." One observation regarding the new wording is that the imagery of Blood being "poured out" is more vivid than "shed" – it portrays His Blood as true drink (Jn 6:55) and accentuates that Jesus entirely emptied Himself (Phil 2:7) out of love for us.

However, the more noticeable revision in those same lines is the replacement of "for all" with "for many." At the most basic level, "for many" is a faithful translation of the original Latin phrase, "pro multis." Turning to Scripture, Isaiah 53:12 prophesied that the Messiah would take away "the sins of many," and Christ Himself at the Last Supper also said His Blood would be shed for "many" (Mt 26:28, Mk 14:24).

This does not mean that Christ did not die for the sake of all humanity, for that, too, is indisputable from Scripture. We need only recall 2 Corinthians 5:15 – "He indeed died for all, so that those who live might no longer live for themselves but for him who for their sake died and was raised." Rather, "for many" upholds the reality that each individual must also accept and abide in the grace won by Christ in order to attain eternal life. The recovery of this wording affirms that salvation is not completely automatic.

Nonetheless, it should not be interpreted as overly restrictive, either. The fact that Jesus was addressing only the Apostles in the Upper Room while saying, "for you and for many," implies far-reaching inclusion – that many more besides the Twelve would benefit from this new covenant.

So, the revised translation of "pro multis" is important, but may require some of the most careful catechesis, due to potential misunderstandings.
